

LIVE UNITED is a credo, a mission, a goal. It's a constant reminder that when we as individuals think outside ourselves, we have the power to facilitate change. When we think of others' lives as linked to our own, our compassion grows. When we reach out a hand to one, we influence the condition of all. We build the strength of our neighborhoods. We bolster the health of our communities. And we change the lives of those who walk by us every day.

Together, united, we can inspire hope and create opportunities for a better tomorrow. Living united means being a part of the change. It's already July, and we are halfway through the year, here at United Way we have been busy making positive impactful changes in Nevada County.

United Way's New Program ~ Food Access Saturday Uniting to Support Working Families

United Way of Nevada County, in collaboration with Interfaith Food Ministry (IFM) and the Food Bank of Nevada County, recently initiated a new food distribution program. For those who work during the week, and are unable to get much-needed supplemental food at local food pantries, this new program offers food distribution on the second Saturday of each month at 440 Henderson St. in Grass Valley. United Way strives to assure that individuals and families in Nevada County are able to meet their basic need for food, emergency shelter, and access to health care.

Any working individuals & families who need food can participate. Current IFM clients who work during the week are welcome to substitute Saturday in place of the normal Monday, Wednesday or Friday distribution, provided it is a week they are eligible to receive groceries. New clients will need to provide a picture ID, proof of residency in Nevada County and Social Security numbers for all those in the family.

United Way's 9th Annual Day of Action ~ Lending a hand in the Community

United Way of Nevada County held it's 9th annual Day of Action on June 1. Many generous volunteers helped make the event a huge success. Volunteers painted office walls at Hospitality House and helped out at the Food Bank of Nevada County, in the warehouse and the garden.

A diverse group of volunteers joined in on this wonderful day of volunteering. Along with the many adults that participated, Bitney Prep students also helped make the day a success. Company employees from businesses such as Telestream showed up to help non-profits in the community with their special projects.

Day of Action is a nationwide United Way event with thousands of people coming out to make a difference in their communities. Every year, volunteers give back to those nonprofit agencies that do so much for so many all through the year.

UNITED WAY FOCUSES ON THE BASIC NEED OF EMERGENCY SHELTER:

A Caring Community Created a Homeless Shelter ~ Hospitality House By Debbie McDonald, Development Director

Hospitality House is a new United Way partner agency.

In the wet, cold winter of 2004, a group of concerned residents, including folk singer Utah Phillips, gathered to discuss their dream of helping the many homeless people in western Nevada County by providing shelter and food during the winter months. For the next eight years, Hospitality House operated as a “nomadic” shelter. Different local churches opened their doors every night of the week to men, women and children seeking shelter and food. In 2014, Utah’s Place, the Hospitality House permanent shelter facility, opened to offer pathways to housing. Since then, Hospitality House has helped move 100 people per year back into a home of their own—that’s one person every four days.

Four-year-old Ayden has lived in six different “homes” in his young life, most recently at Hospitality House. His mom, Ashley, did the hard work of getting clean while living with him in a garage. When she arrived drug-free at Hospitality House, Ashley was ready to create a new life for Ayden.

Building a goal-oriented plan to secure employment was the first step. To that end, Ashley spent six weeks in the comprehensive Hospitality House culinary job-skills program. “This is the first thing that I can say that I have accomplished and been able to finish—not only for me but for my son,” explains Ashley. “The shelter has given me and Ayden the structure and stability we needed.” Her newfound culinary skills enabled Ashley to land a job as a cook at a high-end Nevada City restaurant. Since her arrival at Hospitality House, she has graduated from a job-training program, enrolled Ayden in preschool, obtained a job and moved into a place of their own.

Community Beyond Violence, Formerly DVSAAC By Nancy Ramsey, Associate Director of Programs

Community Beyond Violence has been a United Way partner for twenty-four years. They recently changed their name from DVSAAC.

We received a call on the Crisis Line from an agency that rescues trafficking victims. They had a young woman they needed to place in a Shelter Program. Although normally a 90 day emergency Shelter Program, exceptions are made for particularly traumatized people. Cindy’s long and tragic life left her unable to trust or feel safe any where, because of this we made an exception for her to stay longer.

She came to us very dependent on her dog to keep people away from her since they tended to be frightened of him. She needed medication refills and we worked with another state and local sources to obtain them for her, along with a birth certificate and eventually SSDI. Cindy had attempted suicide on numerous occasions in the past; her daily talks with Staff were her lifeline. Staff transported her to martial arts three times a week where she began to feel more empowered. She was eventually able to let her dog go, since he also kept her from interactions with kind people. We pulled together several county and community agencies to discuss how best to address her many challenges.

Cindy relentlessly pursued any avenue she felt would best support her: from refusing talk therapy, but embracing play therapy, from wanting to attend a specialized wilderness program for trauma survivors, to figuring out how to first obtain an electric bike and then a car. Without her strong will to live, coupled with individuals and agencies in our community who assisted her along the way, Cindy would never have made it. She now lives in her own small place, has a friendly dog, and continues to work on healing, checking in with Community Beyond Violence Advocate Counselors as needed.

Tahoe Safe Alliance By Paul Bancroft, Executive Director

Tahoe Safe Alliance has been a United Way partner for over thirteen years.

Our Safe House provided an opportunity for one Nevada County woman to leave an abusive relationship after fifty years of marriage. The woman moved in the Safe House on October 1, 2016 and stayed for three months before transitioning out. She had come to the Truckee office several times to meet with an advocate before deciding to flee from her abuser and enter the safe house.

Staff in our residential program supported her in setting and prioritizing short term and long term goals. Once a week, she participated in case management where staff would assist her in filling out applications for housing rentals and credit checks. Our residential staff provided transportation, accompaniment, and advocacy at Nevada County Human Services and Senior Citizen's apartments. Residential staff provided domestic violence education and peer counseling throughout her time in the shelter. In addition, she received therapy from a Marriage and Family Therapist during her stay. She was able to transition to a new life, and transition from the safe house to her own housing, free from the threat of violence.

She indicated that the housing, therapy and support were important to her transition to her new life. She has continued to work with the staff on follow up care.
